OTHERS

He is director of the summer school “Arias Montano: Humanism in multidisciplinary perspectives for the XXI century”, organized by the University of Extremadura in Fregenal de la Sierra since 2021. Connected with this project, he is also president of the Sociedad Montana association, that seeks the protection of cultural heritage and educational development in depopulated rural areas.

He collaborates as correspondent in the local and regional newspapers HOY Fregenal de la Sierra and Diario de Extremadura HOY, with articles on printed pages both regionally and locally.

He has participated in the production of local television programs, Television Fregenal and ZF Television, dedicated to the local election campaigns of 2011, 2015 and 2019. He is also part of the Friends of Fregenal Television Cultural Association, of which he has been director and president since March 2019.

He has been an integral part and collaborator of different cultural activities within his hometown, Fregenal de la Sierra, as a member of the Folkloric Group Los Jateros, helping in the organization as a volunteer of the International Festival of the Sierra (Festival of National Tourist Interest); as well as other musical groups in the city such as the Coral Frexnense, along with which he collaborates on many occasions.

As a result of this interest in local culture, he has developed an informative work of the Traditions, Festivals, Culture, Heritage, History and Politics of his city, among others, through numerous articles in the Free Encyclopedia Wikipedia, since 2009, among which stand out one dedicated to Fregenal de la Sierra or that concerning the political figure of D. Juan Bravo Murillo, born in Fregenal de la Sierra in 1803.
